

September 11, 2025: We don't want you in our lives, Donald. We never invited on you to spy on our home. You asked us to join politics to help America. As soon as you showed yourself to be committing crimes, we immediately abandoned all affiliations with you and your enterprise.

We did not 'join the mob.' We were engaging in legal political speech and were representing our neighborhood's core values. We did not join your criminal enterprise and we never benefited from your criminal enterprise. We never committed to helping you carry out a criminal scheme.

Donald Trump, you are attaching yourself, and your team, to our home without our consent. As soon as you showed your face to us, we immediately denounced your efforts. We did not mislead you. You misled all of us. You are continuing to mislead everyone in the world.

Donald, you are a fake. You are not the 'real deal'. You are an imposter and you are not welcome in our life. Why can't you stop spying on us?

You called us to participate in helping the country while you plotted to destroy it for your own benefit. You are a fraud, Donald.

Play your bass music, pretend like you are 'winning' some game of who can mislead the most people and steal the most amount of money. But, the truth is that you are a complete failure and loser at the real goal of living life. You have failed to simply be a good person.

Get fucked, Donald Trump. Literally. I hate you. I find you to be a complete idiot and I am repulsed by everything that you represent.

Donald Trump, you took the last hope of American unity and trampled it for your own monetary gain. You took the last hope of humanity to see a peaceful future and made it into your personal mixtape of hatred and agitation.

You are a disgrace and your reputation as a disgrace will far outlive your presidency.
